A New Year Greeting and Challenge.

Shanah Tovah! You are likely reading these words during the ten Days of Awe (yah-MEEM no-rah-EEM), known as such because they fall between Rosh HaShanah (the Jewish New Year) and Yom Kippur (the Day of Atonement). This time is especially filled with trepidation because it is now, more than any other time of the year, that we concentrate on self-improvement. We engage in teshuvah (turning, repentance) working on bettering ourselves, mending our relationships, recommitting to our Jewish values and community -- literally on adjusting the trajectory of our lives.

Many of us approach others during this time to apologize for misdeeds, slights, and misunderstandings in which we may have been complicit during the previous year. Yet even if we do not take this opportunity to clean our individual slate with others, the teshuvah of the Days of Awe is also a communal act. Together, the Jewish People as a whole including our OST family confess our wrongdoings and vow to make changes. That is likely why Shanah Tovah, our traditional greeting, does not wish us a "happy" New Year, but rather a good New Year, one filled with meaning personally, but also one devoted to tikkun olam, repairing our world.

Judaism teaches that once we are born Jewish, we remain Jewish always. Whether or not we engage with Judaism regularly, we can't shake the feeling that our Judaism is important in some way and so we return to synagogue year after year during these days. Why?

I believe we hope that through the liturgy (the prayers), the music, or the sermons, we will find a reason to recommit to our Jewish identities and to practice and preserve our incredibly valuable tradition. It is through Judaism that we can wrestle with the big questions: What's the deal with God?

What is my purpose here on earth? What happens after I die? What does it mean for me to be a good person? How can I be true or truer to myself? How can I best treat others well or better?

I also believe we come to be tweaked, to hear the shofar blast, an alarm of sorts, that awakens us from our callousness and selfishness and inspires us to become more compassionate, ethical people. The purpose of Judaism, after all, is not to eat Jewish food or tell Jewish jokes, or use Yiddish words. It is to fight evil and reduce suffering in our world.

Our tradition -- whether God, Torah, or our Jewish community -- tells us each of us must pursue these values. If we do not take our Jewish ideals seriously here in synagogue during these Days of Awe, then when will we ever?

So I want to challenge you this year to look at your vidui, your confession of sins, on Yom Kippur, honestly and critically. Ask yourself what you can do to be better, to do better and to treat your fellows better. And then, do it. ✨

Marty and I wish you, your loved ones, our Temple family, our community and the world a good New Year filled with health, justice, love and peace for all,

Rabbi Rosalin Mandelberg

PRESIDENTIAL ADDRESS

Time to Celebrate!

Ohef Sholom Temple has the distinction of being in the Top 20.

Of what? you may ask.

We are the 19th oldest Reform congregation in the nation. Think about that . . . of the more than 900 Union for Reform Judaism congregations, our longevity is notable. It's so notable, in fact, that Rabbi Rick Jacobs, URJ president, found time in his crazy busy schedule last October to help us celebrate our beautiful sanctuary's 100th anniversary and the launch of our 175th year.

And, now, the season of celebration has officially arrived to enthusiastically and elegantly honor Ohef Sholom's momentous anniversary – one of which we should all be proud. After all, we have much more to rejoice about than longevity, including a healthy and active membership of approximately 700 families, our dedicated, inspiring, and widely respected clergy and staff, and on and on.

So, let's celebrate! A team led by the 175th Gala Committee co-chairs Susan and Alex Pincus have designed a 'once-in-a-lifetime' evening for Saturday, November 16. Dinner, dancing, a full and open bar (with special Ohef Sholom drinks!), a piano bar, a few surprises (can't say) and more are planned.

Invitations are in the mail, if not already in your home. Space is limited, as everyone will have a seat at a table, so please reserve your place as soon as possible.

On another note. . .

The first day of Religious School on Sunday, September 8, was a wonderful example of our committees assisting each other – as family and friends do. The day following Religious School's last day in May, the Religious School committee diligently began working to develop curriculums, get faculty in place, increase enrollment, and enhance policies and procedures.

Still, a few extra hands were needed for last month's opening day. Membership and Executive Committee members offered to help, and began arriving just after 8:00 am to check-in students, register some new students, give tours to new families, and just generally welcome everyone back (or for the first time) to our very vibrant OST Religious School. The result? An overwhelming feeling of "this is OUR Temple. We're in this together." Another reason to celebrate!

Back to OST's 175th. . .

If you're still looking for a reason to attend the 175th Gala, consider this one: It'll be fun! ✨

L'shalom,

Terri Denison Budman

SISTERHOOD GIVES!

Sisterhood is responsible for many things at our Temple, some of which you might not even be aware of. When you attend services on Shabbat, Sisterhood provides the flowers and the onegs. When you attend services for the High Holy Days, Sisterhood provides the beautiful flowers. When you need gifts for B'nai Mitzvah, a wedding, a house warming or even something special for yourself, Sisterhood has an amazing Judaica Shop. When you attend our annual Thanksgiving service (when OST hosts) and our annual Congregational Meeting, Sisterhood provides the delicious receptions. Yes, Sisterhood gives. The way we can give so much to the Temple is because of our wonderful Sisterhood members and generous donations. Please join me and be sure you send in your membership fees... unless you've already done so. Thank you for being a part of what makes Sisterhood great!

As I introduce our groups of wonderful Committee Chairs each month, please think about how you might want to get involved. This month I am introducing the Sisterhood Service to Temple Committee Chairs:

- Oneg Shabbat: faYe Howe and Jeanne Miller
- Thanksgiving Reception and Chanukah Dinner: Jeanne Miller
- Shabbat for All: Jeanne Miller and Margaret Sawyer
- Purim Carnival Bake Sale to benefit OSTY: faYe Howe
- Annual Congregational Reception: Margaret Sawyer and Jeanne Miller
- Media: Robyn Weiner

Please join us and feel free to contact me with any questions or concerns:

MEN'S CLUB IN THE SPOTLIGHT:

Introducing Lou Sherman

This month I would like to highlight another member of our Men's Club. He works hard for the Temple and I hope you will enjoy reading about him. He's an honorable man. In fact, we actually call him "Your Honor" Lou Sherman. Here's his story in his words:

My wife, Carol, and I joined Ohef Sholom Temple in 1981, because we enjoyed Shabbat Services led by Rabbi Forman and the music of Chuck Woodward. We also wanted our sons, Eric and Scott, to attend Religious School and OST's was, and still is, the best in Hampton Roads, in terms of learning the principles and practices of Reform Judaism.

Getting our sons to Religious School meant driving them to OST each Sunday, until we moved into the Ghent neighborhood in Norfolk several years later. While relaxing in Kaufman Hall one Sunday I met Alan Troy and Bob Kirschner who invited me into the kitchen to help prepare Sunday brunch. Like Tom Bachman, our current President, I met a great group of men, all Men's Club members. I really enjoyed talking to and spending time with these guys. I decided to join Men's Club, right then and there.

NEXT MEN'S CLUB MEETING @ TEMPLE:

October 2, 2019
@ 6:00 pm

Some years later I became President of Men's Club and have remained an active member for almost 35 years. More importantly, the men I met all those years ago, and their own families, have become great friends and the heart of our Temple family.

If you want to become active, or more active, in Temple life, have the chance to make friends for life, and provide meaningful service to our Temple and the greater community, please join our Men's Club. We look forward to meeting you and welcoming you into our brotherhood.

If you haven't attended one of our gatherings, please come, eat dinner and meet our member, Lou, along with the rest of the gang. ☆

Men's Club and the OST Archives present a Film Screening of Nobody Wants Us: SS Quanza

October 6, 2019 @ 10:30 am

Join us at OST to watch a short documentary film that tells the story of the saving of the passengers of the steamship SS Quanza. The ship had stopped to refuel in Norfolk in September of 1940 before heading back to war-torn Europe with more than 80 Holocaust refugees who had sought and been refused asylum. At least 5 OST congregants (whose descendants are still members) brought food and comfort to the passengers and then gave them shelter when they were released. The 5 included Rita Rosenberg, Justine Nusbaum, Elise Margolius, Doris Kaufman, and Herbert Gerst. The OST Archives provided photos and anecdotal information to the filmmaker, and OST is mentioned in the credits and on the website. A light brunch will be provided and a Q & A session will follow the screening. The program is free, however RSVP's are required to reservations@ohefsholom.org.

IN THE ARCHIVES WITH ALICE

A Look Back at Our History, Part VI: Ohef Sholom's Sixth Twenty-Five Years (1969 - 1994)

of the Temple pOST Bulletin.

The year 1969 began with Richard Nixon ascending to the presidency and ended with the U.S. Air Force finding no evidence of extraterrestrial spaceships in our airspace. Golda Meir was the prime minister of Israel, the Viet Nam War continued to claim both American and Vietnamese lives, Neil Armstrong walked on the moon, and a gallon of gas cost around 35 cents. Elie Wiesel – author, professor, Nobel Laureate, and Holocaust survivor – was a guest speaker, and the congregation prepared to celebrate its 125th anniversary. A Memorabilia Committee was established to identify and preserve artifacts and documents that reflected the congregation's history. As one of its first projects, the Committee located and arranged for photographs of congregational presidents and confirmation classes to be hung on the Temple's walls. A year later, the congregation celebrated its 125th anniversary, just a little belatedly. A celebratory dinner was held, and the Memorabilia Committee, now renamed the Archives Committee, prepared an exhibit of artifacts, photographs, and documents that had been found and/or donated by congregants.

Rabbi Lawrence A. Forman

Over the next few years, there were many changes. A lot was purchased by a group of eight Board members, and eventually the land was used to create the parking lot and side entrance we use today. Sisterhood's Marcelle Gates' Sewing Group established a boutique in 1971. In 1972, bat mitzvahs were introduced for the first time. Rabbi Forman, who was becoming well known for his efforts in the area of interfaith issues, led the congregation's first trip to Israel in 1974. A new Torah was dedicated, scholarships for summer camps and study programs were created, and a new organ was added to the Chapel. A Jewel Ball gave congregants an opportunity to enjoy good music, good food, and good company. In the Religious School, there were changes in curriculum, including the reintroduction of the study of Hebrew, and confirmation classes began participating in Saturday morning services. Students in the Religious School collected food for the Food Bank, and older students visited residents of Beth Sholom and participated in retreats and field trips.

By 1974, the congregation had grown so much that a decision was made to add an assistant rabbi. Cantors were engaged solely for the Jewish New Year, and the post of assistant rabbi had been vacant since Rabbi Joseph Levenson had resigned to become a chaplain during the Second World War. In the 1970s, Assistant Rabbis Robert Sharf and Elliott Helfgott stepped in to fill the position, and in the 1980s and 1990s, Assistant Rabbis Israel Zoberman, Lee Snitzer, and Paul Cohen followed in their footsteps. The more than 50-year tradition of holding interfaith Thanksgiving services continued, and in 1976 and again in 1980, the congregation organized and participated in an interfaith Seder.

Congregants enjoy music, food, and being together at the 1970 Jewel Ball.

The 1980s brought more changes, including, in 1985, the election of Minette Cooper as OST's first female president. Services for families with young children were added to the calendar for the High Holy Days, and on some Friday nights, family dinners gave congregants a time to 'break bread' together. The phone system was updated, thanks to the generosity and perseverance of Men's Club, and Sisterhood celebrated its 70th anniversary by refurbishing Kaufman Hall. There was time to enjoy being together for social events: Purim carnivals, a golf tournament, holiday dinners, a No Frills Ball, just to name a few.

Sanctuary Stewardship in Honor of OST's 175th Anniversary

Have you noticed our new entry stair pavers on the landings at the Stockley Gardens entrance to our Sanctuary? Have you seen the refreshed exterior wood doors and transoms at the west side of our Sanctuary?

These repairs are among those which have been accomplished over the past summer, in preparation for the 2019 (5780) High Holy Days at our Temple. The work was accomplished in order to refurbish portions of our original Sanctuary building envelope, dating from 1918, as well as to provide better safety and security for our congregants and other visitors to our historic Sanctuary.

After 100 years of life, various components of our Sanctuary facility were showing their age and inability to provide physical protection. This work was undertaken to beautify a Norfolk landmark, and to ensure the protected entry for future generations who will worship at, or visit, OST.

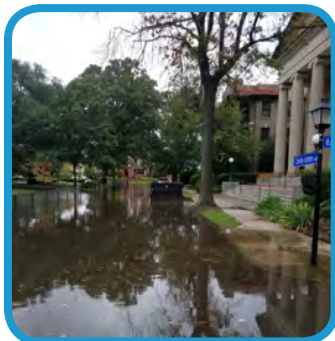

Individual Items of Work Included:

- Replacing sidewalk and eroded subgrade at the base of the Monumental Stair

- Replacing deteriorated terra cotta pavers at Monumental Stair Landings
- Resetting and repointing individual granite entry steps
- Patching and refinishing three (3) pairs of sliding wood entry doors & transoms
- Cleaning, repairing and refinishing the overhead plaster portico soffit
- Cleaning and refinishing all entry wall window frames
- Upgrading existing pole lights with brighter LED lamps

Our House Sub-Committee has carefully considered these components of the Work so that they are economical and extend the life of OST's main façade. The photos below will help you understand the BEFORE, the DURING, and the AFTER of the work involved. ☆

Rick Rivin, Chair
OST House Sub-Committee
housecommittee@ohefsholom.org

Flooding at Stockley Gardens Entrance has affected the walkway in front of the stairs. These are the recent results of Hurricane Dorian in 2019.

The gap between the concrete walk and the stone stair riser had become a tripping hazard.

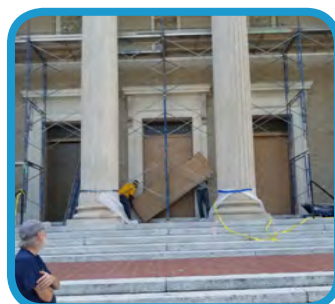

Over time, standing water and freeze-thaw cycles had cracked landing pavers and deteriorated mortar joints.

The three-story high plaster soffit had begun to crack and shed its paint finish.

To repair the soffit, a metal work scaffold was erected, including a temporary access stair.

Poorly fitting and worn exterior sliding doors were removed to access the hidden support hardware.

Each door leaf was taken off-site for repair and refinishing.

Terra cotta pavers were removed and replaced on both landings, including a new, upgraded setting bed and new mortar joints throughout.

LIFE & LEGACY

What is an Endowment?

An endowment is a collection of funds whose principal is held for the long-term benefit of an organization. A small portion of the funds' investment income, usually only 4% to 5% per annum, is used for a variety of purposes, including special initiatives, operating needs and capital requirements. Unrestricted funds can be used at the discretion of the Board of Directors for a variety of the organization's needs. With Restricted Funds, Donors can specify that the distributions from their fund be restricted for certain projects and other uses. With any endowment, a donor leaves a lasting legacy that helps support an organization they value and creates an ongoing means of income for the organization.

Our endowment is known as The Eternal Light Society and is managed by the Ohef Sholom Foundation. It was created in 1995 by Temple leadership who recognized the importance of an endowment as a way to provide programming and operational support as well as fund capital needs beyond what annual membership dues and fees cover.

There are some common misunderstandings about endowments. They are NOT:

- A large pot of money that can be used without restriction.
- Used as a substitute for the amount that needs to be raised annually to fund the operations of an organization.
- Representative of cash on hand, immediately available. A large part of the Ohef Sholom endowment includes pledges that won't be realized until much later.

Currently, the market value of the endowment is approximately $6,000,000. Additionally, we have another $8,000,000 in pledges and promises, some of which are formalized, such as bequests contained in wills and trusts, insurance policies, and retirement fund commitments which will be realized in the future.

In order to be fiscally responsible, our Foundation abides by a spending policy that currently limits our use of endowment income to 4.25% of each fund's average balance over 3 prior years. Annually this

*"As others
planted for me,
so I am planting
for the generations who come after

results in nearly $250,000 of additional money to support our operating budget, special programs and building needs.

The LIFE & LEGACY program, a partnership with the Harold Grinspoon Foundation and Tidewater Jewish Foundation, has allowed us to grow our endowment by adding 66 new gifts, some current and some pledges, valued at $3,300,000 (included in the $8,000,000 of pledges and promises mentioned above). Our goal over the 4-year program is 100 new gifts, and we are well on our way to meeting - and hopefully surpassing - this goal.

Thank you to all those who have created a lasting legacy, ensuring our thriving future. Your gifts will allow our endowment to continue to grow, providing a permanent stream of funding to meet the needs which cannot be met from membership dues alone. Without the funds provided from our endowment, dues could become unaffordable for many current and prospective members, and we would not be able to have the outstanding clergy and staff that are the backbone of our community.

During this season of reflection and teshuvah, we ask that each of you thoughtfully considers what Ohef Sholom means to you and our community at large. It is our spiritual home that was given to us to carry forward for others. It is our individual responsibility, not someone else's, to ensure the future viability of Ohef Sholom.

Leaving an endowment is easy to do and anyone, not just those who we think have more than us, can participate. The barriers are few. It starts with a conversation. We are here to help start one. ☆

The 1990s were just as momentous. By 1990, the congregation had grown to 800 families. The boutique, now known as the gift shop, moved to larger quarters, as did the library. Shabbat family dinners were held monthly, with Religious School students participating in the service that followed. The Ohel Sholom Temple Foundation was created. The congregation agreed to participate in a region-wide initiative, donating unserved and leftover food from Temple events to the regional Food Bank. Volunteers fed the homeless and a social action committee was formed to visit hospitals, shut-ins, and the bereaved. It was a time of celebration and a time for sad farewells. Long-time and beloved Temple Administrator Rita Cogan retired, and the congregation said goodbye to Assistant Rabbi Cohen, who accepted a pulpit of his own. In 1994, the congregation celebrated its 150th anniversary. The OST Archives mounted an exhibit entitled "Faces of the Past/Voices of the Future" and began an Oral History Project to record and preserve the memories of past leaders of the congregation. The last 25 years had been a time of growth and innovation, honoring the past and optimistically welcoming what lay ahead. The next 25 years would prove just as eventful. ✨

OSTY/JOSTY ANNOUNCEMENTS

Greetings from Abby Seeman, OSTY VP of Membership/Communications

It's the start of a new school year and OSTY and JOSTY are ready to make this year one for the books. Some new and exciting swag was ordered this year such as OSTY stickers and Tervis Tumblers. At the OSTY board retreat in August, Leia Morrissey worked hard on creating the new logo which entails a camel and OSTY written in Hebrew-style letters. Also, on the first day of Religious school, grades 6-9 got to come take a tour of the OSTY lounge and hear about all of the fun events that are planned for this upcoming year. It's time for Pizza in the Hut! Kicking off this year right, OSTY and JOSTY are invited to a pizza party in the Temple sukkah on October 13 from 6:00-8:00 pm. Then, on October 26 it is Havdallah-ween and we would love OSTY members at Hunt Club Farm to have a spooktastic time with all of your friends.

Join us for Mah Jongg at OST!

Are you a Mah Jongg player looking for a game?

Have you always wondered about Mah Jongg but have never learned to play?

We are looking for people to play and to help teach others to play at Ohel Sholom on Sundays at 10:00 am.

If you are interested in a fun and friendly game, please contact us at mahjongg@ohelsholom.org
