CLERGY CORNER

Dear Friends,

I hope you are enjoying a wonderful summer and finding time for yourselves and your families to do all of the things you love!

I am writing to you because I want to let you know personally of some medical issues I am having. As of July 19, I will have undergone surgery for a complete hysterectomy, the treatment for some very slow growing cancer cells in my uterus. While the surgery is routine, the long-term prognosis is excellent, and I am in the care of amazing doctors. I will require 3-4 weeks of recovery time during which I will be unable to serve you as I have for the past 13 years and as I hope to for many years to come.

As I feel better and less tired (after the initial three weeks), I will work from home via phone and e-mail, but my surgeon tells me that prior to the one month mark, I will still be very tired and can only resume a fraction of my responsibilities.

Please know that during this time, Cantor Jen will be present for you in whatever ways you require. Since this is in addition to her already full schedule, please be patient with her, our assistant Liz Vincent, and our wonderful OST staff if there are some delays in responses and scheduling.

Also, to ease the burden, we will be relying upon a trained, capable cadre of congregants, along with Chuck Woodward and our Director of Education and Engagement, Stephanie Ben Simon, to offer some sermons on Friday nights and to lead some Shabbat morning services. Knowing that you will be well cared for in my absence is critically important to me in order to give me the peace of mind I need to recover.

In addition to supporting Cantor, our staff, and our volunteers, I know that some of you will want to help in other ways. At this point, all I really need are your love and prayers . . . and for those who like to cook, the Tikvah Group of the Caring Committee is coordinating a meal train sign up at: <https://www.mealtrain.com/trains/12kz95>

Please know, I do greatly appreciate your calls, texts and e-mails, but will not be able to respond personally to them . . . at least for a few weeks. The Temple office will

Rabbi Roz
Rabbi
rabbiroz@ohefsholom.org

be apprised of my progress, so if you could direct calls and e-mails to Liz Vincent at 757-625-4295 or Liz@ohefsholom.org and put Rabbi Roz in the subject line, she will forward them to me when I am able to receive or read them.

Most of all, this diagnosis has been a reminder that we are all human and that life is a gift that must be lived fully each and every day. I am so blessed to be your rabbi, to count you as my Temple family, and to be the recipient of so much constant love and support. My life has great meaning because of all of you and I thank God daily that I am able to live a life of service to our community grounded in Torah and manifested through deeds of loving kindness.

I thank you for all of it . . . always . . . and especially now, for your patience and understanding. I wish you all good health and vigor. Enjoy the rest of your summer.

With gratitude and appreciation,

Rabbi Roz

A WORD FROM THE PRESIDENT

Karen Fine
Temple President
president@ohesholom.org

I find human behavior fascinating. Have you ever considered why we often romanticize the past, and perceive “the grass is always greener” somewhere else? “Rosy Retrospection” refers to the human tendency to judge the past more disproportionately than we judge the present.

One explanation for this behavior suggests that romanticizing the past, or seeing it in a positive light, helps our self-esteem and motivates us to move forward. The darker side of this cognitive bias is that it can make us feel bad about the present. What would be the purpose for wanting to do this? Perhaps feeling bad about our circumstances or condition is what propels us to do something different, to change the way we do things, to effect different results.

It disheartens me to hear people assigning labels, generalizations, or critically judging other generations. For instance, I hear comments like millennials are “lazy,” or “disconnected,” and “addicted to technology” as generalizations which imply judgments. These remarks are suggestive of an underlying negative message, disproportionately judging this group against other generations.

I believe we do a disservice to the greater good when we engage in these types of behaviors. In my opinion these kinds of comments and thinking can result in disengaging this generation, or others from a desire to be sacred partners and collaborators with us in solving OUR challenges. As well, we miss the opportunity to celebrate and explore all the positive things this generation, one that WE created, has to offer.

In all honesty, life is a mixed bag in every sense, and in every era. Choosing to romanticize the past, or assign negative judgments to past or generations other than our own, or perceive that things are better somewhere else, is a sure path to misery, suffering, and a feeling of powerlessness over our destiny. Maybe, however, it's these feelings and the emotions they create in us that are the catalysts to action. Perhaps they can be the motivation to make us want to create a better tomorrow?

As humans we tend to resist change, which is a constant in our world. Change is a natural process. Lasting change takes time and forcing it to happen too quickly creates its own set of challenges. Resistance is a natural response. However, it is in the resistance, the diversity of opinion, the conflict, that creation begins.

Conflict is often looked at as a negative. It wasn't until well into my adult years that I learned conflict is actually a healthy, positive occurrence, rather than something to be avoided at all costs. Conflict, when managed well, can lead to positive outcomes. When we can acknowledge the discomfort surrounding conflict, when we are willing to let go of “that's just the way it is” even if just for a moment, then we can consider the possibility there isn't “A” way. When we open our minds to new ways of seeing and doing things, real change can occur. We open the door to sharing, collaborating, and contributing to our shared destiny. Consequently, we evolve, mature, grow, and adapt. And it all starts with a difference of opinions.

Ohel Sholom's vision is to Honor Our Past, Embrace Change, and Live Our Jewish Values. In order to realize this vision, we must come to see the value in the past and present. We must be willing to see the past in a realistic light, not from a romantic ideal. Yes, there is positive. Yet, it's likely there are also some “ways it's been done” that were less than ideal, or that may have worked well in another time that no longer serve the greater good. We must respectfully listen to the diversity of opinions offered by the younger generation, as well as those offered by the broad spectrum of Jews who make up our community, as they all are our sacred partners. We cannot afford to only listen to those we share similar thinking with. We must open our minds, and our hearts, to embrace our differences, our conflicting views of what Judaism is, and how we practice it. There is not A way, rather many, and accept that this is a good thing not a negative!

“The truth will set you free, but you have to endure the labor pains of birthing it.”

- Iyanla Vanzant

I look forward to the exciting opportunities ahead of us this year, and to the amazing things we, as sacred partners, will create together in honor of our milestone 100th and 175th anniversaries. L'Chaim!

WELCOME SAVRAN STEPH!

Get to Know Ohef Sholom Temple's New Director of Education & Engagement

We are excited to welcome Stephanie Ben Simon, RJE, as our new Director of Education and Engagement (DEE). As the DEE, Stephanie (Savran Steph) will develop and oversee a dynamic program of education and engagement for our entire congregation, creating educational opportunities in alignment with our values for our Temple community at every stage of the life cycle. In partnership with our clergy and lay leadership, she is in the process of developing membership and programming plans with the goals of attracting prospective members, integrating new members into the Temple community, and engaging our existing members throughout their lives.

WHAT IS HER PASSION?

Savran Steph comes to Ohef Sholom Temple with a passion for high-quality Jewish education in all ages and stages of life. She believes that Judaism is magical and can enhance our lives, infusing each day with Jewish values - middot and mitzvot. Having been blessed with the right people to help guide her journey, Savran Steph's passion for Jewish education and engagement was ignited during her junior year of high school while studying abroad in Israel with NFTY-EIE (now called URJ Heller High).

WHAT IS HER EXPERIENCE?

It is through her life's journey that Savran Steph has experienced Jewish engagement and education in Israel, studying at Ben-Gurion University in Be'er Sheva and an archaeological dig at Tel Bethsaida, as well as with many US communities. In the US, her experiences have ranged from West Hartford, Connecticut, where she earned her Bachelor's degree in Judaic Studies at the University of Hartford, to a summer internship in Washington, DC, at Hadassah through the Religious Action Center of Reform Judaism (RAC), to synagogues in Des Moines, Iowa, and Atlanta, Georgia, then back to New Jersey, and finally, landing here in Norfolk. During her travels throughout Israel and the US, she deeply valued and experienced the power of how an organized Jewish community can enrich lives.

Stephanie Ben Simon, RJE
"Savran Steph" סברן סטף
Director of Education & Engagement

While working in the field of Jewish Education, Savran Steph obtained her MA in Jewish Education from The Jewish Theological Seminary's Davidson School of Education and was recently awarded her Reform Jewish Educator Certificate from the Association of Reform Jewish Educators.

WHAT'S ON HER HORIZON?

Savran Steph is recently married to Shay Ben Simon, a native Israeli, and they are excited to begin married life together in Norfolk with us. Savran Steph is especially ready to get to know you and what about Judaism is magical for you.

WHAT ARE PEOPLE SAYING?

Chair of the Education Committee, Joash Schulman explains, "When I first met Stephanie, I was certain that her warmth of character and her depth of experience were exactly what we were looking for. Now that she's arrived, it's exciting to see her interact with our congregants, religious school faculty and our Temple staff. We have an exciting plan that's being placed in motion and we're lucky to have Stephanie at the helm! It's a role that's naturally suited to her personality and she's already begun embracing this community as her own."

Want to get to know Savran Steph even better? Would you like to meet with her in person? Do you have questions, ideas, suggestions, thoughts, etc. to share with her? Want to simply welcome her to our community?

Join us for the upcoming Meet & Greets with Savran Steph on August 7 and August 25 (see our ad on the next page) or send her an email at stephanie@ohefsholom.org

EDUCATION & ENGAGEMENT

Stephanie Ben Simon, RJE
"Savran Steph" סברן סטפ
 Director of Education & Engagement
stephanie@ohefsholom.org

Warm and welcoming are the adjectives I use to describe my first two months here at Ohef Sholom Temple, and that is how I intend to continue my work with this community. In choosing a title to reflect my role as Director of Education and Engagement we went with a word in Hebrew that stems from the Jewish middah (value) of sayver panim yafot which translates to having a pleasant expression. We see this value in Pirkei Avot 1:15 when Shammai instructs us to receive every person with a sayver panim yafot - a smile. Smiles reduce stress and enhance immune response. Smiling is both contagious and good for us.

I hope that the work we do as a community will be contagious as we enjoy our time together, learn, grow and see the magic that Judaism adds to our lives. I hope to be a source that enjoyably connects us through a high-quality Jewish education.

CARING COMMITTEE

Aahhhhh, summer! Those "lazy, hazy days"... (Not so much for Moms, Dads and even grandparents, as we seek a variety of ways to keep the kiddos engaged, stimulated and HAPPY!)

It is also a good time to reflect on and be thankful for our blessings: the beach, the bay, the oceanfront, our air-conditioned homes, and the food on our tables. Indeed, some fresh produce grown on our own Temple grounds!

This month, as summer winds down and we begin to prepare for the High Holy Days, let us also set a little time aside for Tikkun Olam, Tzedakah, and to remind ourselves that prayer can be both celebratory and soulful.

On August 10, I'll be there as Cantor Jen presents the second in their "Friday Night Live!" series of Shabbat evening services in song! If you missed the first one on July 6, you may have heard from others how joyous, uplifting, entertaining and fun it was! Please try to make it!

On Monday, August 27 (before many of our older children are back in school), from 9:30 am - 1:30 pm, our dedicated Soup Kitchen volunteers will once again serve a nourishing and satisfying meal to those who might not otherwise have one. We invite you to bring the kids and join us to share the bounty of food, smiles and encouragement with our guests, who face the "heat" in all kinds of ways, daily.

On Thursday evening, August 30 at 5:30 pm, members of our Tikvah Committee will meet at OST to write cards and messages of connection for the High Holy Days to members of our congregation who are grieving over the loss of a loved one during the past year. We will also reach out to those who may need assistance in order to attend services. The Tikvah committee also needs volunteers to join the group to help with visiting the sick, helping with meal trains, schlepping, and comforting the bereaved. If you are able to help in any of those areas, please reach out to Linda Fox-Jarvis or me if you would like to participate. Help is always needed and welcomed!

Finally, if you love digging "in the dirt," our Eco-Judaism Committee meets almost every Tuesday to weed and harvest our gardens! Reach out to Mary Ann Latona-Nadler or the Temple office if you would like to join in!

Hoping to see you soon!

As the Temple Greens: An Important Announcement About Electronic Bulletins

As we enter the month of Elul, we begin to prepare for the High Holy Days of Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur. We do this as individuals and as a community. And we ask once again: "Who will do mitzvot:

- By recycling that which can be recycled;
- By reusing items that still have utility;
- By reducing our carbon footprint?"

And we answer, once again: "We will," because we approach this holy season with the knowledge that we can always do a little better.

As a community we will do better as we achieve one of our stated goals for 2018 this coming October. That goal was published in the December 2017 edition of the Temple pOST, reiterated in the June/July 2018 edition, and seeks to expand our efforts to recycle, reuse, and reduce by practicing a newer concept in protecting the environment: "precycling." Simply put, this is finding ways we can reduce waste by not creating it in the first place.

The Temple Garden: Let's Get Growing!

The summer garden began after a complaint about the tangle of weeds growing by the entrance to Temple. I was challenged to re-imagine that space, so with the help of the Religious School, a summer garden took root.

The garden also intended not only to be aesthetically pleasing, but to support the Soup Kitchen, educate people about growing plants in a sustainable way, attract pollinators, and involve the Temple community. Due to its success, it was decided to make the garden seasonal. In the fall, it will be once again planted with cold weather crops.

The current plants, which are identified in both Hebrew and English, include 2 types of tomatoes, small sweet peppers, string beans, walking onions, vining okra, several different herbs, and pollinator plants. When the plants are harvested, the vegetables will be used in the soup kitchen.

The objectives for the garden have been met successfully so far, except for member participation.
We need more help!

That is why Ohef Sholom's Temple pOST Bulletin will become digital with the October 1, 2018 edition. If you wish to receive a printed bulletin, please contact the office at (757) 625-4295.

We do ask that you consider the two-prong cost of receiving a paper copy of the bulletin. The first being the financial cost to Ohef Sholom Temple. Currently, publishing the pOST comes at an expense of approximately $1000/month. The second is, of course, to the environment and trees.

Trees hold a special place in the hearts of Jews. We describe the Torah as "the tree of life." In the book of Genesis, there are two trees central to the story which symbolize life and knowledge of good and evil. Even in war, the Jewish principle of bal tashchit (do not destroy) forbids us to cut down trees. There is a recognition in our tradition of how central they are to our environment and maintaining life. Trees absorb carbon dioxide, provide shade and shelter, provide food for us and other creatures, and build soil. We seek to uphold the principle of bal tashchit in this electronic age by using less paper and cutting down fewer trees to produce the pOST. We thank you, once again, for joining our efforts.

Research shows that gardening has many benefits such as stress reduction, boosting your mood, exercise, exposure to vitamin D, and providing healthy food. There is also a spiritual aspect to the planting, nurturing, and harvesting of a garden. The metamorphosis that takes place when all of the pieces - earth, water, seed and nature - come together is wondrous.

As the line from our service says, "Listen to hear God's voice." A garden provides an opportunity to "listen" through observation and patience and to "hear" through seeing the results of the garden. There is also the opportunity to share this experience with friends, family and the extended community.

People who have been an integral part of this project thus far are Mary Ann Nadler, Jeanette Friedman, Chris Kraus, the Temple staff, Mike Haywood, and Gill Gillespie, who is a fountain of knowledge and experience.

If you are interested in being part of this project or any other Temple gardens, contact me, Mary Ann Nadler, or the Temple.

JOURNEYS TO JUDAISM

Join us for a three-part series to learn about fellow congregants' stories of their Journeys to Judaism.

As we know, there are many ways to express our faith and live our Jewish lives. On three Shabbatot, you will have the opportunity to hear three different expressions of individual and family commitments.

LIFE & LEGACY

Life & Legacy Deeply Appreciates Our Eternal Light Society Members and Pillars

On Tuesday, May 22, Ohef Sholom honored our Eternal Light Society Members and Pillars with a special appreciation celebration at the Chrysler Museum Glass Studio. It was a memorable evening for all and a wonderful opportunity to show our gratitude to these generous donors.

To learn how you can support OST's mission with a gift, contact LIFE & LEGACY Chair, Matthew Fine at matthewfine@cox.net or 757-407-1368

OST Archives on Exhibit

If you happened to visit the Meyera E. Oberndorf Central Library in Virginia Beach in the month of May, you may have noticed photographs of some familiar faces and places in the display case in the lobby. The United Jewish Federation of Tidewater was invited to create a display for Jewish Heritage Month. Because the OST Archives is one of the preeminent repositories of local Jewish photographs, documents, and memorabilia, UJFT came to us for items that represent some of the important people, places, and events from the history of the Tidewater Jewish community.

Taking advantage of photographs from the magnificent 150th Anniversary Exhibition, Faces of the Past/Voices of the Future, we were able to provide the UJFT with just a few photographs that document the important contribution the Tidewater Jewish community has made to the region.

Pictured here are the Moses Myers House (home of the first permanent Jewish residents of Tidewater), the Cumberland Street home of OST (from 1859-78), the Monticello Hotel, David Lowenberg (prominent business leader and first director general of the 1907 Jamestown Exposition), B.A. Banks (first Jewish representative in the Virginia House of Delegates), Eloise Van Os in her WWI era Red Cross uniform, Dudley Cooper in front of the Ocean View Amusement Park, members of the 1946 Pi Tau Pi fraternity, and Virginia Hofheimer's WW II Aircraft Spotter Certificate.

Have a humorous caption for this photograph from the Ohef Sholom Temple Archives?

Email your caption to archives@ohefsholom.org or leave your suggested caption in the Archives mailbox in the Temple office. Be sure to tell us your name. The winning caption and runners-up will be published in the next issue of The Temple pOST.
