A Pandemic in Persia!

A Pandemic in Persia
A plague in the land
The shelves are all empty
All gatherings are banned

We can't come together
It isn't ideal
But no pandemic will stop us
From holding our spiel!

Queen Esther is ready
To plan Haman's doom
But we won't be in Kaufman...
We'll do it on Zoom

So bring your best costume
And a matching background
And come to the best
Virtual Purim around!

There's no need for pants
And you won't have to drive
It'll be at 6:30
On 2/25

We'll cheer for Good Mordy
And Haman, we'll boo
And we'll celebrate Esther
For saving the Jews!

We can't wait to see you for A Pandemic in Persia: A Virtual Purimspiel! Bring your family, grab a hamantaschen, pour a drink, and get ready for the craziest Zoom Purimspiel Hampton Roads has ever seen!

Chag Purim Sameach,

Rabbi Roz     Cantor Jen

Mutual Support is a Necessity

During the first several weeks of January, I found myself watching more national news programs than usual. Like most Americans, I found what was taking place in Washington, D.C. surreal and frightening, compelling me to flip through the channels for updates. As I write, our nation's capitol is in lockdown – streets are closed, fences and barricades surround the mall and our national monuments, and National Guardsmen are stationed throughout the city. America's most iconic buildings where tourists flock and the business of our government occur, are off-limits. Concern for our nation's capitol – physically and metaphorically – continues.

What does the nation's news have to do with Ohef Sholom? A lot, according to Timothy Snyder, an American author, professor of history at Yale University, and historian who specializes in the history of Central and Eastern Europe and the Holocaust. I watched an interview with him just a few days before the Inauguration. He said, and I'm paraphrasing here, that we can't just depend on our institutions to take care of us. We have to take care of and support them. If we want a local newspaper to alert us to the important news of our area and to monitor our cities' governments, for example, we should read it, subscribe, and if appropriate, advertise.

As Snyder listed other examples of institutions to be cared for on his way to his primary point, our democracy, my first thought was of Ohef Sholom. If we want our congregation to be available when we want it, we must support and nurture it along the way – not just when our personal circumstances require or desire its services. According to Snyder's reasoning, it's our job, our responsibility to care for our Temple. We can't depend on Ohef Sholom, he would suggest, if it can't depend on us.

We all have a role in supporting our Temple, and those roles vary throughout our membership. For some, it is volunteering expertise and time, for others it is contributing funds beyond dues. For some it might be paying dues, and for still others, it could be attending services, classes, and events. All forms of support are important and appreciated.

For whatever role you assume in taking care of and supporting our Ohef Sholom Temple, thank you. Ohef Sholom needs us all, and during these particularly difficult times, we all need our Ohef Sholom.

L'Shalom,

Terri Denison Budman

FEBRUARY IS JEWISH DISABILITY ADVOCACY MONTH!

Join the Jewish Federations of North America for a month of education, solidarity-building and empowerment in support of peoples with disabilities.

This year's JDAM will focus on advocacy to fight for laws, policies and norms to ensure that individuals with disabilities can live, work and prosper in a more just, inclusive and accessible society. It all begins on Wednesday, February 3 at 7 pm ET with special guest and world-renowned Israeli-American violinist, Itzhak Perlman.

SISTERHOOD

Ohef Sholom Temple Sisterhood is wonderful!! Even during this pandemic with all of its challenges, Sisterhood has managed to continue a variety of activities. We have supported Temple programs, Religious School activities, and Caring Committee projects. We have also participated in helping ForKids families.

As a Sisterhood, we have had Zoom meetings, a Challah baking demonstration, and a virtual Yoga class. In January, we had a Zen Doodle Workshop and in February we're holding a special Book Club, with the author in attendance from Cork, Ireland. See more information about the Book Club in the ad below.

With Purim at the end of this month, we are still having our annual Hamantashen Sale for the congregation. Look for the order form in this Bulletin, or order online at ohefsholom.org/sisterhood/ by February 18, 2021.

So, YES, our Sisterhood is wonderful! We will continue to thrive, even through this unique and sometimes difficult time. Join us!

As our Sisterhood Board continues monthly meetings exploring ways to support each other, our Temple and the community, we welcome your thoughts and ideas so please contact me, through email, text or phone.

Yours in Sisterhood,

Sisterhood Book Club

Sunday,
February 7

2pm Sisterhood Book Club

All are invited to join Sisterhood and author Jean Grainger for a relaxed conversation about her book The Star and the Shamrock. Jean will be joining us in conversation from Cork, Ireland.

The Star and the Shamrock is part of a series of four books. The series traces the history of the Kindertransport, a rescue operation that brought 10,000 unaccompanied Jewish children from Germany to the United Kingdom just before World War II.

It is a story of hope in desperate times. A story of hope for the future and what can happen when people come together for a greater good.

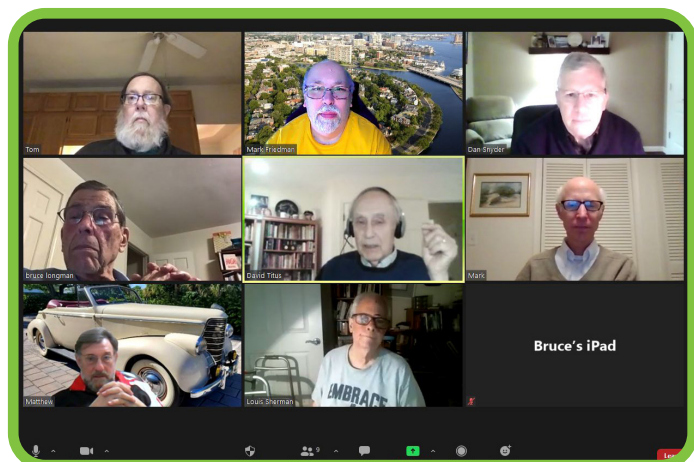

The zoom link will be sent to you before 2/7/2021!

MEN'S CLUB

These monthly articles are getting harder and harder to write since we are not able to have physical contact with each other. We still have our monthly Zoom meetings which seem to be the new norm for most of us. Despite these limitations, we have managed to participate in several Temple projects.

I'm hoping everybody stays safe so we can gather together again for our monthly pizza dinner meetings. In the meantime, be sure to mark your calendar for our next Zoom meeting on February 3 at 7 o'clock.

Sincerely,

Tom

TZEDAKAH QUILTING GROUP

Ohel Sholom Temple's Tzedakah Quilting Group was able to donate their quilts successfully to Virginia Supportive Housing (VSH). Sharon Nusbaum picked up 10 beautiful quilts from Ohel Sholom Temple and delivered them to VSH last month. VSH plans to hold a raffle for five of the quilts to go to current residents and then the remaining five will be given to new residents one by one as they enter the program.

To learn more about the Tzedakah Quilting Group, or for more information, contact Marsha Moody at vamoody1@verizon.net or call the Temple office at 757-625-4295.

Are you available to fulfill this mitzvah?

If so, please contact Dorianne Villani at 757-617-8624 or dvillani@cox.net.

WE OF OHEF SHOLOM IN THE SPOTLIGHT

SPOTLIGHTING THE ARCHIVES:

A Thank You to Alice Titus, Our Retiring Archivist

A hundred years from today, when the COVID-19 pandemic is part of history, members of Ohef Sholom Temple -- and the rest of the world -- will know how this congregation suffered, adjusted, and responded to the greatest life-threatening emergency in a century. And they will have the keepers and contributors to the OST archives to thank for it.

"We are documenting the experience of the pandemic," explains Alice Titus, who has retired after four years as the Temple's archivist. "By preserving documents, photographs, and videos from the pandemic years," she says, "people will know how congregants and clergy celebrated holidays and life cycle events, students continued their religious education, and the congregation continued its outreach to those less fortunate," despite the restrictions imposed by virtual technology, social-distancing, and face mask requirements.

COVID-19 Archive graphic

Collecting, preserving, and showcasing the thousands of items in OST's archives has been Alice's labor of love. From bringing in a nationally known expert to make preservation recommendations to spearheading a move to a more stable and accessible environment for the most vulnerable items, Alice has striven to preserve the history of this congregation and the Tidewater Jewish community and to communicate that history to congregants, educators, and researchers. "And it couldn't have been done," she insists, "without the leadership of the Archives Subcommittee, the support of OST's staff, and the assistance of a team of volunteers."

It is a responsibility she has now passed to Amanda Brooks, who has come to OST from the Slover Library's Sargeant Memorial Room, the repository of Norfolk history. Amanda's archival training and experience make her uniquely qualified for the job, and her special interests in genealogy and local history will stand her in good stead in continuing to preserve the history of this congregation.

Alice Titus building a clothesline timeline of Ohef Sholom history with students.

From designing an interactive program for the religious school and writing articles for OST and the Southern Jewish Historical Society, to answering congregants' questions and providing background and photographs for events like the congregation's 175th anniversary, Alice has worked to make the archives relevant to the current needs of the congregation and the larger Tidewater Jewish community.

According to Ed Kramer, former co-chair of the Archives Sub-Committee, "When Alice came to our Ohef Sholom family several years ago, she was tasked with a seemingly insurmountable job: make archives relevant to our congregation. Not only did she do that with the utmost aplomb, she oversaw the transformation of our archives." Frequent archives volunteer Gail Bachman calls her "hard-working, knowledgeable, and relentless when working on a project." "As our archivist," she says, "Alice has displayed boundless energy and is truly an asset to our congregation. I'm also very honored to call her a friend." Archives volunteer Karen Margolius Plotnick remembers a quote from David McCullough that "history is who we are and why we are the way we are." She credits Alice with "reviving and enlivening our Temple history, showing how its preservation is relevant today."

Ohef Sholom has been a part of Tidewater for over 175 years. OST's archives preserves the documents, correspondence, photographs, and recordings that chronicle that history. The records of the congregation form the core of the collection. But there is so much more. The documents and correspondence of some of the congregation's leading families, a rare prayer book with a fascinating history, and an almost 150-year-old diary shed light on the congregation's early history. More recent history is documented in the papers of a former rabbi, the historical records of Temple Sinai, and an Oral History Collection that includes interviews with more than 45 congregational leaders.

That history has been and still is being enriched by the involvement of OST members and clergy in the events of the day. In the past it was events like the Civil Rights Movement, the rescue of Holocaust refugees on the SS Quanza in 1940; and the repair and resupplying of Exodus 1947, a ship that famously attempted to bring Holocaust survivors to Palestine. Today it is the plight of current immigrants, and the well-being of those less fortunate.

One of Alice's proudest efforts was providing material for the documentary Nobody Wants Us, which tells the story of the SS Quanza passengers, who had been turned away by the U.S. and were being sent back to war-torn Europe. With the help and cooperation of OST's Men's Club, she was then able to bring the film to Ohef Sholom for a program that also featured a panel discussion, with among others, the filmmaker and a congregant who was an eyewitness to the events.

"Unlike libraries," Alice explains, "archives are the repositories of resources that are unique. It is our responsibility to preserve them and make them available to researchers, now and in the future. American Jewish history is often ignored or distorted," she reminds us. "If we don't tell our story, who will?"

Join us in wishing a heartfelt "Thank you!" to our own Alice Titus for her tireless dedication to the OST archives!

Please give a warm Ohef Sholom welcome to our new archivist, Amanda Brooks!

THE POST BULLETIN BOARD

Nominating Committee Information for Members

Dear OST Congregants,

As the Chairperson of the Nominating Committee of the Board of Directors, I am writing to invite YOU, our valued OST members, to apply to serve our congregation as a Board of Director of Ohel Sholom Temple. Whether you come often to the Temple or just come once or twice a year, this is an opportunity to serve Ohel Sholom Temple in new and meaningful ways!

Our OST Board members are advocates and ambassadors both within the Temple and in the outside community. They are not only expected to attend monthly Board meetings (third Thursday evening of the month), but to agree to serve on at least two Temple committees, support Temple fundraisers, and attend services and other Temple events on a frequent basis. The current openings for the Board of Directors will commence in May of 2021 at the Annual Meeting and will continue for a 3-year term.

If you have the desire to serve OST, I encourage you to apply for a Temple Board Director position on or before February 15, 2021. Please email me for a questionnaire form. All Board Director applicants' names will be kept confidential by the Nominating Committee and the Executive Committee. Due to the small number of Board positions available, we may be unable to invite all who apply to serve as a Board member this year, but please do not let that deter you from expressing interest. In addition, please consider serving on a Temple Committee or Group.

This is a great way to "get your feet wet" in engaging in Temple life in a more meaningful way and can be a stepping stone to moving into a leadership role. There are many choices for involvement at OST!

We hope this process creates the opportunity for more of our members to get involved with Ohel Sholom Temple's leadership. OST is a $1.4 million organization that requires leadership and skills to function and fulfill our mission of being a welcoming House of Worship and Sacred Community. We cannot do this without our devoted volunteers and lay leaders.

Please feel free to email me or Terri Budman, Temple President, at president@ohelsholom.org with any questions or comments.
