As we returned from winter break happy faces once again filled our building on Sunday mornings. During the month of January the students were engaged in many experiential learning opportunities. Our 4th and 5th grade students, along with some parents, visited the Jewish Museum and Cultural Center to expand upon their lessons on Jewish Immigration. Our youngest learners have been creating Shabbat ritual objects using various materials during art class. And while teaming up with Eco-Judaism, our 6th and 7th graders harvested the collards they planted back in the fall, then the 4th and

5th graders prepared and cooked the collards for the OST Soup Kitchen guests. The experiential learning continued into February as we started the month off with an off-site family program at the Norfolk Botanical Gardens to learn about and celebrate Tu B'Shvat. The families were split into 3 groups where they were engaged in age appropriate activities led by the Gardens staff. We concluded our program learning about, and tasting, the seven species of Tu B'Shvat. Super Bowl Sunday was celebrated by encouraging the students to wear their favorite sports team attire- while there really isn't a Jewish connection to the Super Bowl, it is always fun to enjoy a spirit day and let the kids express their interests! To enhance the learning happening with our 8th and 9th grade students, Alice Titus arranged a field trip to the Moses Myers House. The students got to experience the history of the first permanent Jewish-American residents in the Norfolk area. Also during the month of February the students were gearing up for Purim by doing their favorite cooking activity of the year, hamantaschen making!! Speaking of Purim, OSTY and JOSTY have been quite busy preparing for and planning this year's Purim Carnival. It is going to be a SWEET time!! As you can see, there is a lot going on in our Religious School. It really is the place to be on Sunday mornings at OST!!

OSTY & JOSTY

NFTY - MAR WINTER KALLAH

January 13th-16th, 2023

Winter has been busy for OSTY and JOSTY! In January, OSTY sent 3 members to NFTY-MAR Winter Kallah, where they met Jewish teens from Maryland, Virginia, and North Carolina at the Airfield 4-H Center in Wakefield. Our teens learned about social justice initiatives, Jewish issues and what it means to be Jewish. They also had "big fun," ate to their hearts' content, and started getting back into the rhythm of larger, regional gatherings in person.

The next NFTY-MAR event is "Sprinter Kallah," in conjunction with PAR and GER, covering New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and Delaware. That one will be at Camp Harlam outside Philadelphia. Registration is open through the NFTY-MAR website. If your teen is interested, please reach out!

At the end of January, we had our first OSTY/JOSTY Shabbat, where we celebrated together by lighting the candles and leading kiddush and motzi at the Friday night service. Then we ate dinner together and brainstormed ideas for Purim Carnival.

As we get closer to March, we're excited to get into full-on planning mode for our biggest event of the year. This year, we chose Candyland as our theme and can't wait to see it come to life. Be sure to get your tickets early! Our carnival and vendor fair will be Sunday, March 5 from 10:30 a.m. to noon.

Sisterhood WOMEN OF REFORM JUDAISM

Sisterhood, Women of Reform Judaism, has been busy with several important programs.

In January, we were privileged to have Temple member, Dr. Holly Puritz, bring perspective to us on several women's issues. And then in February, we met to discuss a meaningful book, The Forest of Vanishing Stars, by Kristin Harmel. Debi Stadlin led our group in an engaging discussion on this powerful story. Both of these events were accompanied by complimentary salad suppers, thanks to Jeanne Miller. During March, we will support OSTY's Purim Carnival by holding both a Bake Sale and Hamantashen Sale. All of the profits from these events will be given to OSTY. Additionally, please join us as we lead Shabbat services on March 31. We are fortunate to have Andrea Stillman as our guest speaker. Andrea is the newly elected President for the Mid-Atlantic District of the Women of Reform Judaism.

Be on the lookout for more information on these, and other, upcoming events.

Yours in Sisterhood,
Gail and Margaret

OST Soup Kitchen

hot meals, warm hearts

★ Soup Kitchen Teamwork! ★

Thank you so much on behalf of the many happy guests to whom we fed lunch at the Soup Kitchen on January 30th. Thanks to the partnership between the Soup Kitchen, Eco-Judaism Committee, and the Religious School, we served collards for the first time at our Soup

Long-time Soup Kitchen volunteer Sandi Advocat was thrilled to serve the collards to our appreciative guests.

Kitchen. The Eco-Judaism Committee and Religious School students lovingly planted and nurtured the plants in our very own OST vegetable garden, and when the collards were ready to be eaten, the Committee worked with the Religious School 4th-7th grade students and leaders to harvest, clean, and cook them (not a small job) for the Soup Kitchen guests as a Religious School project. WIN-WIN-WIN FOR ALL! In Sharon Nusbaum's words, "It's a trifecta of accomplishments for OST!"

The guests raved about the collards- coming back for seconds and thirds- thanks to all of you who made it happen all along the growing and cooking process. We told our guests that the collards were grown in our OST garden and prepared by the Religious School students. We were so proud to tell them! We appreciate and value our Soup Kitchen partnerships with groups and committees throughout OST. It is truly one of the special gifts that our Temple life at OST is all about.

Gratefully yours,
Doranne Villani and Ellen Hundley
Soup Kitchen Co-Chairs

Religious School students and Eco-Judaism Committee team up to harvest, clean, and cook collards.

Smiles all around from the guests enjoying their meal.

We serve our community in need on the last Monday of each month from 10:30 am - 1:00 pm.

Contact dvillani@cox.net for more details and to RSVP.

Archives – a collection of historical documents or records providing information about a place, institution or group of people.

OST Archives covers all of the above. We have an amazing amount of information and want to get it processed so it is all searchable. A huge step is to create finding aids and hopefully one day we will have all of this information digitized. All it will take is time, people and money!

Alice Titus has been working on the Bertram Nusbaum, Sr., collection.

Gail Bachman and Ernie Goldstein are updating the box inventory.

Karen Plotnick has been scanning our accession books and newspaper and magazine articles.

Archivist Erin Miller has been processing our OST marriage and past member records, and Religious School records. Erin's current project is Bill Nusbaum's presidential papers. Additionally she oversees the work of our dedicated volunteers.

Margaret Sawyer is creating finding aids for the many, many OST Board Minutes.

David Titus continues working with the Holocaust Library and the Children's Library. The Children's Library now has classes sign up for a time when he can read stories to children on a given topic and they can also check out books on that topic. If you are interested in volunteering in the Children's Library, contact David Titus at dktitus@gmail.com.

Micro-Greens

Fun For The Whole Family

Marc D. Rabinowitz • The Eco-Judiasm Committee

Walk through any grocery store and you will often see plastic containers of micro-greens. They are expensive, often $6.00 or more for a small plastic container and even at that price point they are often hard to find. Micro-greens and herbs are 7-15 day old versions of leafy greens and vegetables. These young vegetables are ready to harvest when they are 1-3 inches tall. They grow quickly and are super easy to grow.

Like their full grown versions of greens and vegetables these smaller versions vary in flavor and nutrient content. They range in color from vibrant green to-purple and are intensely flavorful.

The most popular varieties include broccoli, radishes, lettuce, arugula and onions. Often considered a Superfood, these micros have between 9-40 times the nutritional value of full grown plants. They pack a hefty nutritional punch of vitamins such as C,E,K, lutein and beta-carotene — two antioxidants thought to stave off macular degeneration.

Micro-greens are very easy and very inexpensive to grow and harvest at home. Harvest occurs 7-15 days after planting which makes them fun for the whole family to watch. They are easily harvested and add flavor to salads, sandwiches, smoothies, and vegetable dishes and are fun to just snap off and munch.

If this brief article has wetted your appetite, join us at our booth during the Purim festival. We will supply the container, soil and seeds along with easy to follow instructions. You will be able to plant your own containers of micro-greens to be grown in your home. YUM!
